Guided field trip on the second day of the conference (5th March)

Hotel Kristály is located 3 km (7 min. by car) from the Fényes Educational Trail and the organizers will provide bus transfer back and forth for those participants who requested it during registration.

The 1,5 km long study trail is under Ramsar protection and winds above a submerged alder forest, which is completely unique in Hungary, from where you can constantly peek at the aquatic world of wonderfully clear 20-22 °C karst springs erupting from the depths. These waters were utilized already by the Romans, but their discharge decreased heavily due to mining activites during 1950-2015. A lookout tower, hanging bridge and hand-operated ferry adds to the experience of the boardwalk trail. Professional English guidance will be secured by the Danube-Ipoly National Park Directorate detailing the challenges related to the management of IAS discovered at the site as well. Please be preped with proper shoes. Depending on the weather conditions raincoat, or umbrella would be necessary.
